LAPIS LAZULI'S WATERWORKS

Lapis Lazuli has the ability to control water. If you can do the same, you'll discover something that Lapis doesn't appreciate.

Place pipes to create a single closed water system. The central connection nodes are labeled with letters that indicate the type of junction that occurs there. One junction is already placed for you.

I = Two pipes connect to the node in opposite directions, making a straight line
L = Two pipes connect to the node at a 90 degree angle, making an L shape
T = Three pipes connect to the node, making a T intersection
O = No pipes are connected to the node.

Each water droplet will be in a region enclosed by pipes. Regions may have more than one droplet.
