Arrangement Notes:

- Every movie I own that was adapted from a book is adjacent to at least one other movie that was adapted from a book. Both the top and bottom movies were adapted from books.
- Two of my top three movies take place (at least in part) in London.
- The oldest movie is one spot higher than the newest movie.
- Films that do not have scenes set in the U.S. are never placed next to each other.
- Movies with female top billed actors are in even numbered slots.
