The psychokinetic din of the poltergeist is generally no more than the irksome flailing of a disgruntled spirit, disordered in scope and effect. Where the spirit's movements are subtle and controlled, however, you know to take careful note of even the smallest details.

This is a spot-the-differences puzzle. Each of the differences encodes a letter using a different method: BRAILLE: C

ALPHANUMERIC: H

SEMAPHORE: A

NATO: N

BINARY: D

PIGPEN: R

MORSE: A

Left to right this gives the answer: CHANDRA
