For the 10th anniversary of Puzzled Pint we thought it would be great to take the time to go visit all the new cities that have joined since Puzzled Pint's humble beginnings. The only problem is that there are so many cities now, we couldn't figure out how to make it to all of them at once. The only answer was to manipulate time itself! So we put our best people on figuring out how best to travel through time to make it to all the events.

We screened a bunch of famous time machines, but some of them must not have been calibrated quite right cause we had a hard time showing up on time!
