

Puzzled Pint

February 2011

After dinner, Pat asked Chris if Chris would like to see a movie. Chris hesitantly agreed. Unfortunately Pat and Chris are both a little short of cash, so they decided to go to the discount theatre that shows knockoff movies. Unfortunately, the discount theatre's marquis was a mess! It was full of misspellings, bizarre titles, and there were more movies listed than show times. Pat and Chris eventually decided to use their limited funds on something else. Can you figure out what they bought to liven up their evening?
