

Apocalypse Averted

When the royal family of Crete was subject to destruction by Neptune's Kraken (events recounted in the Mozart opera Idomeneo re di Creta ossia Ilia e Idamante, which otherwise has little to do with this puzzle), the Royal Mathemagician produced a plan to protect the palace grounds and the royal family. Unfortunately the only surviving record of these plans is the following sketch indicating the placement of eleven lanterns to light up the palace grounds. That sketch is reproduced below. Can you solve it and unscramble the result to determine the monster's weakness?

