

Chorophobia - Fear of dancing

by James N., Chicago

All I wanted to do is head to a bar, have a drink, solve some puzzles... instead, all of my friends dragged me out dancing. To make matters worse, they've dragged me out to perform the latest dance craze, the P.P. Slide, and I don't remember the steps.

There are two pairs of dancers on the dance floor, each facing their partner. Each dancer makes the same movements, relative to the center, at the same time. But which direction to they go, and for how many squares?
