

“ ALTERNATE DIMENSIONS ”

The Enterprise is stuck between two dimensions! It is desperately trying to get back to Earth. Right now the ship is trying to minimize course changes to save fuel, but the crew of explorers is willing to check out as many planets as they can that fall in their path. As the helmsman, you (yes, you!) are the trusty navigator that the captain is relying on.

Follow the directions below to help the Enterprise return safely, and examine what was left undiscovered on the journey to find your final answer.

TO EXPLORE

The Enterprise only travels in straight lines (horizontal or vertical).

In the dimension that the Enterprise starts in, whenever you come to a planet, the Enterprise makes a 90° left hand turn.

Whenever you come to a moon, the Enterprise makes a 90° right hand turn.

STRANGE

NEW PUZZLES

Whenever you come to the edge of space, you re-enter from the other side and continue in the same direction. However, doing this changes the dimension and now the turns you make at moons and planets are reversed—i.e., planets now have right hand turns and moons have left hand turns. This reversal happens each time you cross over from side to side.

Whenever you come across a wormhole, you keep going in the same direction, but the dimension changes and thus the turns you make at planets and moons reverse again.
